Condensers

Manufacturing and Construction

Four Seasons® condensers are manufactured with premium materials to meet OE specifications for fit, form and capacity. All Four Seasons® condensers are leak and pressure tested to ensure trouble-free performance and coated for corrosion resistance.

As condenser technology has progressed and transitioned to flat tube configurations, flushing has become almost impossible. In fact, it is highly recommended that any compressor replacement in a vehicle built after 2001 should be accompanied by a condenser due to the reduced refrigerant path.
